

Information

Nikon announces reorganization of corporate structure

March 5, 2024

TOKYO - Nikon Corporation announced today the reorganization of its corporate structure as outlined below, scheduled for April 1, 2025.

Establishing the Vision Robotics

To promote business in the field of vision robotics and aim to create a new pillar of the business, Nikon is newly establishing the Vision Robotics.

Establishing the Riblet Solution Development Department

To aim to launch a riblet processing business, Nikon is newly establishing the Riblet Solution Development Department.

* Due to the establishment of the above two new organizations and other reasons, the Next Generation Project will be abolished.

Establishing the Murakami Laboratory, Imaging Business Unit

To enhance the superiority of future products through proposing new manufacturing and design methods for imaging products, as well as through research into new materials and new camera structures, Nikon is newly establishing the Murakami Laboratory, Imaging Business Unit.

New Organization of Nikon Corporation

